

We have put together a bit of a search guide. I hope it will make your search process a bit easier.

The city web site is at: <http://www.wycokck.org/>

Once there, the pages of this guide will help you with your business search. If you click each of the link locations that have been noted with red arrows.  You will end up at the business license search page.

At this point you can search by any of a number of criteria, but keep a few things in mind. The more specific the information entered, the more limited the results; and, the more characters entered, the more chances for a typo or error to occur (both in your search and in the way the information was originally entered. Similarly, the less information that is entered, the more broad the search becomes and more entities will be selected in. (this can be a bit cumbersome to sort through)

Business entities should be able to provide you their business license record number and search can be done by that alone as a general search. The business license number is either 10 or 15 digits in 5 number strings separated by dashes. (12345-00000-12345)

If they are unable to provide their business license record number you will need to resort to a detailed search. Unless you know the exact business address you will want to do a general search. If you know the exact address, select search by address. .

You can search by business type with the drop down menu, but it only allows one type at a time. If you look at the drop down menu, you will notice that there may be only slight variations to business type, so you may have to repeat your search multiple times to locate a specific business, or to select in any of a number of businesses you might be searching for.

If you decide to search by address, again remember, the more information entered, the more limited the results. If you select a street direction or type, nothing will be selected into the search that does not match. The same occurs with the zip code. (if information was entered incorrectly it will not match.) The more broad your search is, the more likely it will include the business you are looking for.

Once you have identified the business you are searching for, you can select that business for additional information, to include the current status. Those that are in renewal status are not current for the present calendar year. If the status is delinquent they are not registered to do any business in the city at this time.

When an individual record is selected, available public information can be viewed by clicking on a respective arrow tab that will expand with any available details.

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to call our office for assistance. (913) 573-8780

Business License

The Unified Government Business Licensing is 1 of 7 Divisions located in the NRC. The Business Licensing Division is responsible for the enforcement of various Unified Government licensing and taxing ordinances, and for the billing, collection, and processing of fees prescribed by these ordinances. Although the name would indicate that business licenses are the primary function, the reality is that processing business licenses only accounts for twenty percent of division efforts while the collection and processing of occupation taxes represents the majority of the duties.

All businesses with a physical location in Kansas City Kansas, as well as those businesses that come in to the city to conduct and perform business or work, including those conducting sales and services in the city, do need to register and file the occupation tax application for the specific business activity being conducted. There are a few limited and specific exemptions with regard to paying the occupation tax, but all business entities would still file the application, and be noted with the appropriate exemption.

In addition to the occupation tax, some business activities do also require regulatory license or permit.

Occupation Taxes

- Are intended strictly as a source of revenue for the Unified Government and not for regulation

Regulatory Licenses & Permits

- Are intended to regulate certain business activities

Important Numbers

- Are available if you have additional questions about business licenses

Neighborhood Resource Center

Welcome to the NRC E-Link

In partnership with Accela, Inc., the Neighborhood Resource Center is fulfilling its promise to deliver more convenient, and interactive government services to you through our E-Link. To use E-Link you will not need to register or login at this time. When using the service you can view information and get questions answered 24 hours a day, 7 days a week directly from the NRC computer records. We trust that this site will provide you with a new, higher level of service that makes living and working in our community a more enjoyable experience.

What would you like to do today?

To get started, select one of the services listed below of use the 'global search' in the upper right corner of the Home page. The global search will return a match from any module.

Please note the category for License contains Business and Rental Licenses.

Currently, the Department of Planning and Land Use is not participating with Citizen Access. The record information under this feature does not necessarily reflect the real time status of a Planning Department application. It is a department goal for Planning to participate with Citizen Access. Follow us at www.wycokck.org/Planning for the most up to date information on our department's progress.
